

Theatre in the Rough Festival

Registered Charity, No. 1133246

PRESS RELEASE

WILDWRIGHTS: Free Nature Writing Event at Liverpool's Sudley Walled Garden

Liverpool's Theatre in the Rough and Growing Sudley CIC are inviting people to unleash their imaginations and connect with the great outdoors at Wildwrights – a free nature writing event at Sudley Walled Garden in Mossley Hill on Saturday, March 30th.

With experienced guides on-site, this experience is tailored for writers of all ages and skill levels. Whether you're a seasoned wordsmith or a budding storyteller, you'll have the opportunity to craft poetic treasures and captivating tales inspired by the garden's vibrant ecosystem. No experience is necessary, as free wild writing guides and materials will be provided.

Chris Fittock, Director of Theatre in the Rough, said: 'We aim to spark creative adventures for curious minds by encouraging connections with the natural world. Nature is an amazing collaborator, and there's nothing quite like a breath of fresh air to inspire the literary spirit.'

The events are family-friendly but are open to anybody wanting to make the most of a natural writing haven. Admission is free, but booking in advance is essential, by going to <https://growingsudley.com/all-events/wildwrights-wild-writing-workshops>

ENDS

Theatre in the Rough Festival

Registered Charity, No. 1133246

CONTACTS

Chris Fittock, Director – chris@theatreintherough.com

NOTES TO EDITORS

The project is funded by The Save Our Wild Isles Community Fund, The PH Holt Foundation, The HDH Wills 1965 Charitable Trust, and The Alpkit Foundation.

Theatre in the Rough is a producer of new creative work for emerging artists in Merseyside and West Lancashire. Since 2021, they have focused on work exploring the Climate Crisis. They have previously produced projects with a range of institutions, including National Museums Liverpool, Royal Albert Dock Liverpool and Sefton MBC.